

You're Okay, RSPA Tells Preh

PrehKeyTec (Buffalo Grove, IL) has been named an RSPA Certified Retail Technology Provider by the Retail Solutions Providers Association (Charlotte, NC). According to RSPA, PrehKeyTec has demonstrated its “commitment to excellence and an exceptional level of professionalism.” In addition, Preh has been designated as “ethical and fair and stands behind the products and services they sell and support.” To date, two dozen companies have received the new RSPA blessing, including three vendors--PrehKeyTec, Posiflex Business Machines, and VeriFone--and 21 POS resellers.

“RSPA is very pleased to bring an industry association supported certification program to the retail technology marketplace,” said Joe Finizio, RSPA President/CEO. “This program was developed to set and maintain the bar of professionalism for retail technology vendors and resellers. PrehKeyTec has proven its worthiness of this certification by demonstrating superior products and customer service.”

Stephen Bergeron, President of PrehKeyTec USA, stated, “We have long been supporters of the RSPA and its goals as our retail association. We were excited in July to learn of the certification program and were quick to respond. Achieving the certification further strengthens the Preh brand and validates our commitment to the retail industry. We are proud to be recognized by the RSPA.”

Editor's Note: RSPA also announced its Thought Leadership Summit, Inspire 2010, will be held in Cancun, Mexico, on February 7-10. For more information, or to register, click [here.]

Preh's MCI3100 Telephony Keyboard